RUMOR SAYS MARTIN, MAYOR OF MONTREAL, MAY BE OFFERED PLACE IN FEDERAL CABINET

Report About Quebec Leader Who Has Always Been Known as Staunch Liberal Creates Great Interest; He Says He Has Not Yet Been Officially Approached on the Proposal.

Montreal, July 30.—A rumor gained circulation in Montreal this morning to the effect that Mayor Mederic Martin was to be offered a portfolio in the Meighen Government.

Interviewed, the mayor merely said:

"Nothing is impossible under the sun. It would rest with the person asked to accept such a portfolio to accept or reject it. I have not been approached officially as yet, and I would not commit myself to a reply until I have been officially asked."

Mayor Martin has always been known as a Liberal stalwart and the rumor has caused some political excitement.

PROHIBITIONISTS ATTACK EXCLUSION OF WOMEN IN BARS

New Move Only Can Be Defended on Ground That Parlors Are an Evil, They Say

Liquor Board Pleased With Change, Brought About Through Its Own Efforts

Closing of Vancouver beer bars to women, as announced yesterday, was greeted with keen satisfaction by officials of the Liquor Control Board here to-day.

Vancouver beer licensees, it was explained, are acting voluntarily in their decision to exclude women as the liquor board has no legal power to effect this change itself. For some weeks officials of the board have been in conference with leading beer parlor operators in an attempt to secure the exclusion of women, and these efforts have finally succeeded.

Exclusion of women is regarded as the first result of prohibitionists' campaign to wipe out beer parlors in Vancouver altogether. Beer licensees, fearing the criticism which is being directed at conditions in these establishments, desire to overcome some of this unfavorable impression in the eyes of women.

ATTACK NEW MOVE

This move, however, brought a quick return from prohibitionists on the mainland. At a prohibition meeting in Chown United Church, Vancouver, Wednesday, Rev. R. J. McIntyre attacked the hotelmen for excluding women from the beer parlors. The regulation violated personal liberty and equal rights for women, he insisted, and could be defended only on the ground that beer parlors were dives unfit for the patronage of decent women.

CONTINUE DRY CAMPAIGN

Vancouver prohibitionists are continuing their efforts to secure a new vote on the whole beer question in the belief that such a ballot would wipe out beer parlors altogether. Meanwhile Vancouver beer parlor operators are busy circulating licenses in other parts of the Province in an effort to have them conform to the Vancouver plan of excluding women. They believe this system will be adopted generally.

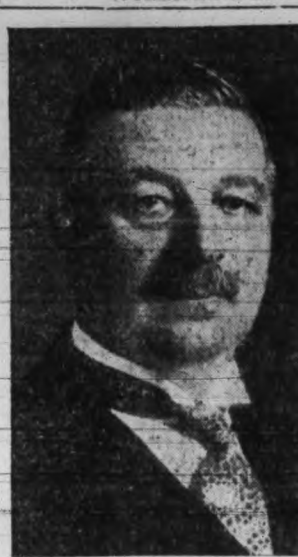

Liquor Board officials explained that the beer licensees have a perfect legal right to exclude women if they wish to do so. Legal advice on this question was sought, they said, before the board started its negotiations with licensees in an effort to improve the existing situation in beer parlors. In any case, they argued, no test of the matter in the courts is likely.

Lancashire Firms Are Raising Loans

Oldham, Eng., July 30.—A sensation has been caused throughout Lancashire by the announcement that for the first time in its history, the cotton trade is obliged to resort to foreign sources for credit.

A local spinning company has obtained an advance of £50,000 from a United States trust company, to avoid making a call on its stockholders. It is reported that other companies contemplate similar steps to meet the situation, which has resulted from the prolonged depression.

LIBERALS CHOOSE OUTSTANDING MEN TO CARRY ELECTION FIGHT INTO CONSERVATIVE TERRITORY

British Columbia Liberals have laid the foundation for a victorious election campaign in territory now held by Conservatives with the nomination of outstanding men as candidates for the House of Commons.

Dugald Donaghy, leading Vancouver lawyer, for years an outstanding figure in public affairs and representative of North Vancouver in the last Parliament, will lead this attack by contesting the Vancouver Centre seat with Hon. H. H. Stevens. He consented to-day to run and his nomination at a convention to-night is assured.

While Vancouver Centre Liberals were arranging to nominate Mr. Donaghy, the Lower Mainland brought a veteran political figure to the fore with the nomination of H. H. Gale, former Mayor of Vancouver. In another Conservative constituency, Cariboo, Liberals nominated John Graham of Merritt, a business man well known throughout the riding, who will carry out a vigorous campaign against John A. Fraser, Conservative of Quenell.

In their effort to break more strongly into the Lower Mainland seats Liberals have chosen a leading businessman, W. F. Hanbury to contest Burrard as running mate to Mr. Donaghy.

In North Vancouver regarded as a safe Liberal seat, Angus MacGoughan is regarded as a likely Liberal candidate to replace Mr. Donaghy.

Mr. Donaghy's acceptance of the Vancouver Centre nomination was hailed with unreserved delight by Liberals all over the Province, as well as in Vancouver. It insures the warmest political fight that Vancouver has ever experienced, it was generally agreed on the mainland. Carrying the spearhead of the Liberal campaign, Mr. Donaghy, it is believed, will prove the most formidable opponent Mr. Stevens has yet faced in his riding. The former North Shore member was not anxious to run and, in fact, had decided to retire from politics, but the issues involved in the present election finally caused him to accept nomination against Vancouver Liberals.

Mr. Donaghy, who had consented to move from the North Shore to the Centre seat and oppose Mr. Stevens.

ONTARIO ELECTION OUTLOOK DISCUSSED

Toronto Star Says People of Province Will Vote in First Half of November

Toronto, July 30.—An Ontario provincial election in the early part of November is forecast by the Toronto Star, which says:

"The active co-operation of Hon. W. H. Price, Provincial Treasurer, in the Conservative organization work for the Federal general election is not a mere indication of the affection between the Federal and Ontario Tory parties."

"It is rather an emphasis on the decision of Premier Ferguson and his colleagues to hold an election this Fall November has been tentatively fixed as the month and the date probably will not be later than the sixteenth."

MEXICAN SENATOR AND JUDGE KILLED IN PISTOL FIGHT

Mexico City, July 30.—Senator Manuel Hernandez Galvan and Judge Jesus Salcedo, both prominent politicians, were shot and killed last night during a pistol fight between Galvan and Deputy Enrique Hernandez Alvarez in a saloon. Galvan and Alvarez, political enemies, met in a saloon, drew their pistols and began shooting. Galvan dropped dead from a shot. A bullet that went wild killed Judge Salcedo, who was merely a bystander.

The religious situation had nothing to do with the affray.

DOWN TOWN LOTS BRING RISING PRICES

Nearly $70,000 Worth of Property Sold at Auction Sale

Only seventy properties of the list entered by the city for auction sale remained when Charles S. Austin mounted the rostrum at 2 p.m. to-day for the concluding sale of the Field Streets, vacant or improved, and year. Bidding opened briskly, and once again Pandora Avenue prices mounted skywards in relation to prices at which they had changed hands in recent years.

BARGAIN PRICES

Hollywood, where about forty parcels of land sold yesterday at holiday bargain prices, drew better figures to-day as out-of-town bidders took time to go over the ground in the meantime.

Actual sales made generally throughout the city are evenly divided between local and visiting capital, with dealers most in evidence throughout. Before laying down the hammer to-night the auctioneer expects to dispose of the remaining pieces in the sale.

IN TAXPAYING COLUMN

Yesterdays' trade close on $70,000 worth of reverted property found its way back to the taxpayers' column on the city's books, with an assessed value of over four times that amount. Few of the prices realized were far in advance of the current market, and others again were obvious bargains which promised high returns. Many purchasers were offered small advances on their parcels before they had completed paying the auctioneer's fee, but in most cases they held on to the way they had acquired.

CAUSE OF EUROPE'S PROBLEMS STUDIED

Failure of U.S. to Join League of Nations Deplored by Greek Leader

Williamstown, Mass., July 30.—Foes of the United States to ratify the Versailles Treaty and diverse opinion in regard to the security clauses in the League covenant have been largely responsible for the "disorder, anguish and misery" occasioned by the problems of disarmament and security, Dr. Nicholas Politis, Greek Minister to France, speaking before the Institute of Politics here, said to-day.

The coal strike in Great Britain was caused largely by the transfer of German coal to that country in accordance with reparations agreements, Paul R. Harvey, international lecturer, said in another address.

MIGRATION TO BE MEETING SUBJECT

Amery Says Empire Delegates in London Will Discuss Settlement Plans

London, July 30.—(Canadian Press Cable)—Speaking of the forthcoming Imperial Conference, Right Hon. C. Amery, Secretary for the Dominions, told the House of Commons settlement with Dominions would be an important subject before the delegates.

While progress in this direction during the last three years had been disappointing, he maintained this was not due to inefficiency on the part of the British Government's organization. Economic conditions during recent years in the Dominions had failed to justify the welcoming of large parties of emigrants, he said. He also thought there had been too much insistence on emigrants being in certain physical condition, and he said he would press at the conference for a more elastic interpretation of the rules of certain Dominions.

NEWSPAPERS WARNED

The league hopes by the boycott to effect an economic slump which will be sufficiently embarrassing to the Government to cause it to modify its policy.

DOROTHY ALEXANDER DEPARTS TO-NIGHT

Admiral Liner Will Take Out Capacity List on Excursion Trip to Alaska

On her fourth trip of the excursion season the big steamship Dorothy Alexander, largest vessel yet routed to Southeastern Alaska ports, arrived here at 3 o'clock from Seattle. A capacity list of passengers has been booked weeks ahead of the sailing, and as this is an extra ship plying to Alaska waters, the bookings indicate the increase in traffic over last year, as all the regular carriers are booked to capacity. A number of passengers will join the Dorothy here.

The vessel will only remain at this port for two hours this trip instead of four hours. She will leave at 5 o'clock in order to catch the tide at Seymour Narrows.

The Dorothy Alexander was formerly the President, operating between Victoria, Seattle and San Francisco, and is commanded by Capt. Nystrom, one of the veteran skippers in the Alaska service.

Among the passengers who will sail on the Dorothy are: E. J. Smith, accompanied by his daughter, Bernice, Virginia and Dorothy, and Miss Mary A. Paul; R. E. Smith and wife of Portland, A. J. H. H. Smith, traffic manager for the Nelson Steamship Company; H. R. Leclair and his daughter, Penelope and R. H. Leclair, and Miss R. H. Leclair; James A. Tait and wife; F. A. Haines Sr. and wife, and F. A. Haines Jr. of Tacoma, and Harry Johnston and wife.

W. M. Allan, Victoria representative of the Admiral Line, stated this morning that the traffic to Alaska, in spite of the adding of the Dorothy Alexander, exceeded all previous demands for accommodations to the Northland during the excursion season.

DOWN TOWN LOTS BRING RISING PRICES

corner lot went for $225, while one running through the block at its rear brought $275.

A three corner lot over 100 feet square at McClure and Quadra went without a bid to a bidder at $425 for each lot.

On Broughton Street a few doors above Douglas a full sized lot brought $1000, while at the rear facing on Courtney two of equal size went for $875 and $725 respectively.

Two isolated parcels on Rockland Avenue west of Cook Street car tracks went for $1600, vacant, and $1350 improved.

On Cook Street at Paganed three lots which in 1912 sold for $35,000, passed into other hands at $625 each, comprising a triple corner 120 feet by 120 feet in one lot.

Johnson Street lot entered in the sale, west of the Reg Motor Company premises, brought $2500.

PANDORA STREET
On Pandora Street prices jumped and fluctuated from $1100 up to $3500 and back. On the south side of the avenue between Douglas and Blanshard Street two full-sized lots went for $2300 and $1900 respectively.

Two between Blanshard and Quadra on the same side of the avenue brought $3550, and $1950 respectively. The southwest corner of Pandora and Vancouver Street brought $2000, and the lot to the west, also full sized, $1200 both to the same bidder.

On the north side of Pandora Avenue at the northwest corner of the intersection with Vancouver, a large piece 150 by 60 brought $1550, and a similar parcel to the west of it, 1100. Both of these lots run through to Mason Street. Similarly placed but further west in the same block a double sized lot sold for $1350.

Only six parcels of Pandora Avenue property remain to be sold to-day, ten passing into private hands as a result of yesterday's trading.

HOLLYWOOD PRICES LOW

In Hollywood prices fell in some cases to apparent absurdity. A choice frontage on the carline at Fairfield Road, 80 by 30 feet brought only $150, while two larger lots in the west sold for the same figure each, half an acre of land changing hands at $450. On Chandler Avenue blocks of five, six and seven quarter-acre lots went for prices ranging from $225 to $150 per lot.

A large corner at the car terminus, at the southwest corner of Fairfield and Foul Bay Road sold for $400, with a frontage of just short of 100 feet on both thoroughfares. Immediately to its south a similar slice passed at $225, with over 80 feet frontage on Foul Bay Road.

The northwest corner of Foul Bay Road and Beaver Street, 37 feet square went for $450, its buyer purchasing the Irving Road frontage in its rear, the same size for the same sum. A double corner at Irving and Crescent Roads went for $500, and one to the east for $425 adjoining.

WATERFRONT LOTS

Waterfront lots showed a little more money, passing at $900, $855, and $700 going east on Hollywood and Crescent. The southeast corner of Hollywood Crescent and Beechwood Avenue passed at $375, two adjacent parcels of the same size changing hands at the same figure.

A large double corner at the southeast corner of Pinewood Avenue and St. Charles Street changed hands at $400, 100 by 80 feet in size. A similar piece at the southeast corner of St. Charles and Earle Street passed at $350, while seven lots on the east side of St. Charles, south of Earle Street, went at $200 apiece. Interior lots in the Hollywood area brought from $150 to $275, with a few changing hands at $300 and $325.

BAHAMA DEATHLIST IN STORM OVER 150

SEEN FROM PLANE

The first news of the hurricane beyond the Main Island was brought in late Wednesday by Miami newspaper men who had been lost in their plane for six hours on a deserted spot south of Andros Island. Another aeroplane seeking a distressed yacht supplied fuel for the party to reach Nassau.

The newspaper men, Hal I. Leyshon of The Miami Herald, Daily News, and R. P. Mitchell, Miami correspondent of the Associated Press, subsequently flew through the outer islands over the two Bimini Islands and Morgan's Bluff as well as the intervening smaller keys and Great Isaac, where the British lighthouse stood in danger of crumbling.

Every island suffered as did Nassau, only on a somewhat smaller scale. Water covered the greater portion of these outer islands. During the late afternoon boats from Florida coast began to pass through the still choppy waters.

Government officials stated it would be several days before a complete check of the lives lost and the property damage could be made.

Scattered through a distance of 750 miles, the Bahama Islands form a barrier between the Atlantic Ocean and the eastern entrance to the Gulf of Mexico. The formation is chiefly from wind-blown piles of shell and sand, the total area being 4,402 1/2 miles with a population of 58,174. Nassau is the capital, with 12,544 population, and the Andros Islands are the largest and most densely wooded. Sponge fishing is the principal industry. Government is administered by the British.

It was on San Salvador, one of the group on the Atlantic side, that Coaldale, the ship, was wrecked in 1925.

BUCCANERS THERE

A favorite haunt of the buccaners of the eighteenth century, the Bahamas have figured in many historical episodes. Among these was the blockade running exploits during the American war between the states when the exports of the little islands swelled from little more than $1,000,000 to nearly $25,000,000.

Many of the islands are uninhabitable. The population of Great Abaco is descended from the revolutionary days. Harbor Island has about 2,000 inhabitants who claim to be descended from the buccaners.

MEXICAN CHURCH SERVICES ENDING

nor Jara of the State of Vera Cruz has instructed all mayors within his jurisdiction to take possession of the Roman Catholic churches after the priests withdraw on August 1. The newspaper says this procedure has been authorized by the Government.

The churches throughout Mexico will be delivered to local committees appointed by the mayors, who are said to have been instructed to use federal troops if necessary to maintain order.

Presenting the opinion of the local government, Governor Jara has issued a statement saying the attitude of the church "involves rebellion on the part of the clergy," and that the Masons and Liberals of Jalisco have expressed their support of the Government.

Labor and seamen's federations are organizing a demonstration to show their approval of the Government's attitude.

PRAYERS ARE ASKED

London, July 30.—The Tablet, official organ of the Roman Catholic Church in England, will in Saturday's issue say editorially regarding the situation in Mexico:

"A letter to his clergy from the Cardinal-Archbishop of Westminster reminds us once more that to-morrow, Sunday, is the day of intercession for our persecuted brethren in Mexico."

"It is also the day when the Mexican laws, imitating Bismarck's Kulturkampf and Emile Combes's Oppression of the French Catholics, will come into force. At first the brute force of the Government may score successes against the Catholics, but prayer is stronger than the strongest brute and the church will win in the end."

REPORT OF DEATHS FALSE

Washington, July 30.—The Mexican Embassy here has issued the following formal statement:

"American newspapers published two days ago a cable from Mexico stating that, as a result of the enforcement of the Mexican Government of the laws regarding religious questions, the mayor of Nochtatan, Zacatecas, had fired at a priest and then ordered him under arrest. The villagers, according to the newspapers, became infuriated and hanged

LIBERALS CHOOSE OUTSTANDING MEN TO CARRY ELECTION FIGHT

GALE COMING BACK
Mr. Gale's nomination in West Kootenay was unanimous at the Liberal convention in Nelson last night. He will oppose W. K. Ealing, Conservative nominee, and member of the last House of Commons. Mr. Gale's return to active political life after several years of retirement caused a sensation among politicians to-day. The former Vancouver Mayor is one of the most effective speakers in the Province, and will conduct a stirring campaign in the interior constituency.

Liberals are confident of winning at Cariboo, which was lost at the last election owing to a split in the party there over the selection of a candidate. The entire Liberal organization in the province is behind Mr. Bramham in the present campaign, and it is believed he will receive a substantial majority.

TO CONTEST BURRARD

Mr. Hanbury is regarded as a strong candidate to oppose General J. A. Clark in Burrard. He is one of the best known of Vancouver's younger businessmen, and on account of his record of his day-labor firm in dealing with labor is expected to receive substantial support from the important Burrard constituency.

The campaign already is beginning to warm up in Vancouver. Mr. Stevens will arrive on the coast at the end of next week, and from then on a strenuous fight will be waged in all the Vancouver seats. Meanwhile, the active Customs Minister is busying himself with far-reaching proposals.

STEVENS'S PROPAGANDA

Vancouver citizens have just received copies of "Mr. Stevens's speech on the customs service, delivered in the House of Commons a few days ago. This interesting document was turned out by the King's printer. The booklet states on its face that it was "Printed by F. A. Ackland, printer to His Most Excellent Majesty." The cover carries a full-sized autographed photograph of Mr. Stevens. The copy of the booklet showed to Vancouver newspapers to-day came post free, having been franked with a rubber stamp bearing the name of Arthur Meighen. The booklet contains sixteen pages exclusive of a four-page cover.

RECIPIENT ANGRY

That Mr. Stevens, almost immediately he assumed office, took advantage of his new position as a Government minister to secure a large quantity of self-exploiting literature, for the printing and mailing of which he would have to pay for by private means under ordinary circumstances, is the inference drawn by the citizen who received the booklet. Incidentally, the Minister was so angry that he tore up the literature, retrieving the pieces later,

LAPORTE DECLARES MEIGHEN NOT BRAVE

Ex-Minister Aroused by False Report About Customs Steamer's Cruise

Quebec, July 30.—"I ask the Canadian Press to send my message to the Pacific Coast and I declare without blushing that the Prime Minister of Canada is a coward."

Thus Hon. Ernest Laporte, ex-Minister of Justice spoke in addressing a large Liberal rally held here last evening in his honor. The declaration came at the end of a statement in which Mr. Laporte denounced what he termed the "infamous story" concerning an alleged six-week St. Lawrence River cruise of the customs steamer Margaret Meighen, which he claimed had been connected in the Maritime Provinces by A. J. Doucet, ex-M.P., speaking on the same platform at Premier Meighen. Mr. Laporte declared he had wired the Prime Minister asking that he repudiate the statement of Mr. Doucet, but no reply had been received.

SAYS MEIGHEN HIDES

"Mr. Meighen has just given the citizens of this country a despicable example," said Mr. Laporte. "First he hid behind the Governor-General instead of shouldering the responsibility that is his for the violation of the constitutional character of this country. And now he hides behind a slanderer to throw mud at an adversary that always met him in honorable combat."

Denying the entire story connecting him with a cruise of the Margaret, Mr. Laporte declared: "Despicable individuals have repeated this vile calumny with the same pleasure in spreading insects take in spreading a plague."

"Thank God I still have the strength required to defend myself and to slap the grinning faces of my slanderers."

AN OPEN BOOK

"My career is an open book, every page of which I allow my adversaries to scrutinize. I only ask them one thing—I ask them to grant me the homage of truth and spare me defamation and lies."

Mr. Laporte recalled that in 1911 only the Liberals of Quebec kept fighting the opposition. They rallied themselves around Laurier and when Laurier died they kept together even more and fought with Mackenzie King. In 1921 they won the fight. In 1925 they also were returned to power, as the adversaries had not a sufficient majority to govern.

FOR PRINCIPLES

The province of Quebec was not to be bought, he continued. Its population had fought and would continue to fight for principles. It was the House of Commons that decided Mr. King should remain Prime Minister after the last general election. Mr. Laporte said. The Liberal government remained in power for six months and the other that was replaced it was dead before it was born.

"An old elector from Montmorency said, they kept it two days because that is the period of time we are allowed to keep a corpse," he said.

"Mr. Meighen," said Mr. Laporte, "claims there is no constitutional issue in this campaign. There is one and our constitution must rely on the British constitution. Governed after the British constitution, our country will become one of the greatest nations of the world."

"The King reigns but does not govern. What is good enough for the English is good enough for the Canadian."

Work to Prevent Crossing Smashes

Winnipeg, July 30.—A resolution urging all organizations now working for the elimination of railway crossing accidents to continue their efforts was passed at the closing secret session of the annual meeting of the Canadian division, Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers here. Publicity and continued warnings to motorists are suggested.

Old-timers, many wearing the honor badge signifying forty years' membership, declared that although railroad travel for passengers and crew had been made 100 per cent safer through standardization of equipment, the death danger at railway crossings was an unknown sight in the past.

"RED MICHAEL"

UNTIL HIS RETIREMENT A FEW years ago, Dr. Michael Clark, who passed away yesterday at Olds, Alberta, was one of the most striking personalities in Canadian public life. He entered Parliament as Liberal member for Red Deer in 1908, not long after his arrival from Northumberland, England, where he was born, and quickly impressed the House by his ability as a parliamentarian. As a debater, particularly on economic issues, he was without a peer, and that was at a time when the House of Commons included Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Hon. W. S. Fielding, Sir Robert Borden and Sir George E. Foster. He was convincing, forceful, informative, constructive, and always comparatively brief.

It was obvious that Dr. Clark's training had been acquired in the school of political controversy in his native country which produced men like Chamberlain, Asquith and Balfour, whose speeches rarely exceeded an hour and who in that time were able to deal with many issues of the most momentous nature, such as tariff reform, the Irish question and the land question, with a little foreign policy thrown in for good measure. In answering a three-hour or four-hour speech by Sir George Foster, Dr. Clark seldom took more than an hour. He never was venomous like Mr. Meighen and, also unlike the present Conservative leader, he was possessed of a keen sense of humor which found expression in all of his speeches and healed the wounds his unerring and merciless logic inflicted upon his opponents. He could demolish a column of pettifoggish sophistry, hair-splitting and word-juggling with a single sentence. Always fair and chivalrous, no matter how hard he struck, his speeches commanded attention in all political camps.

Dr. Clark was a man of strong convictions, especially on fiscal policy, and not infrequently differed with his party on that ground. His conception of Liberalism, acquired in Northumberland, had no room for a tariff, and he did not like the Canadian Liberal policy of a tariff for revenue only. Whether he would have been a capable administrator or not it is not possible to judge, since he never had an opportunity of trying his hand at this task. But nobody in his time or since then in the House of Commons has equaled in debate on his chosen field the big, red-whiskered, genial clarion-voiced free trader from Olds, Alberta, whose passing will be regretted by a host of admirers from coast to coast.

OLD-AGE PENSIONS

IT IS GRATIFYING TO LEARN FROM Hon. J. H. King that if the Liberal party be returned to office on September 14 it will again enact the old-age pensions law.

Hon. Dr. King was Minister of Labor when this measure was being prepared by the King Government. In spite of determined opposition from the Conservative members—and they fought the measure at every stage—Dr. King was successful in getting a majority for the bill in the House. Unfortunately it fell by the wayside in the Senate, owing to the hostility mainly of the Conservative majority there. That was the end, for the time being, of the Liberal party's determined effort to make provision for those men and women who have given the best part of their lives to Canada and who, through no fault of their own, face the evening of their days in doubt as to their means of subsistence. The country owes them something better than this.

As Minister in charge of the bill, it is no wonder that Dr. King should feel keenly the opposition which the Conservatives in the House of Commons and in the Senate directed against it, and that he should serve notice that if the Liberal party is successful on September 14, it will see that its legislation is re-enacted. On the next occasion, perhaps, those followers of Mr. Meighen who have voted themselves $4,000 a year for life will remember the less fortunate but equally useful and respectable citizens of Canada whose advancing age has not been accompanied by such opportunities for acquiring affluence.

CANADA'S NEEDS

IN THE BRITISH HOUSE OF COMMONS yesterday Rt. Hon. L. C. Amery, Secretary for the Dominions, said one of the important subjects to be discussed at the forthcoming Imperial Conference would be that of overseas settlement.

Other things will no doubt occupy the time and attention of the Empire delegates; but the maximum benefit of the interchange of view will be obtained if the subject mentioned by Mr. Amery and that of investment of British capital in the British Empire take premier place.

Canada needs more people and more money. Britain has plenty of both.

MR. O'HALLORAN'S CANDIDATURE

IN SELECTING MR. C. H. O'HALLORAN to carry their standard in the general election campaign which is now under way the Liberals of the Nanaimo riding have made no mistake. Mr. O'Halloran is a thoroughgoing Canadian in every sense. He is particularly well informed on all the public questions which are now receiving the attention of the voters throughout the Dominion and is quite capable of discussing them on the platform. He has the advantage of youth and enthusiasm and he should be able to bring to his campaign a freshness and vigor that will help him to render a good account of himself.

Mr. O'Halloran is fortunate in being in a position to plead a first-class cause. He should be able to impress the electorate in his territory with the progressive accomplishments of the Government of Mr. Mackenzie King. Many a voter will have realized the benefits which Mr. Robb's budget conferred upon him through the very substantial reduction of taxation. The late Government's efforts to place an old-age pensions law and provision for rural credits upon the statute books of the country will likewise be remembered by most people in the Nanaimo riding. Mr. O'Halloran will be able to discuss these and other matters in a constituency in which he is well and favorably known and whose interests he has studied for some time past.

NO COMPARISON

SOME WRITERS WHO DISCUSS THE wage scale of the British miners with that which obtains in other industries contend that because the man who hews coal underground gets a little more than forty-four cents an hour in comparison with a house painter's forty cents his complaint of underpayment falls to the ground.

The argument is obviously a poor one. The painter's job, compared with the task of the man who most of his working hours is lying on his back hundreds of feet below the surface of the ground, is little more difficult than child's play. About the greatest risk the man takes who wields his brush in the light of day is when he works above the ground on scaffolding. Yet when an accident occurs to him it is very rarely caused by the faulty construction of his temporary platform. But the miner never knows when Nature herself is going to put an end to his career for all time. He is exposed to dangers, known and unknown, practically every moment he is hewing coal.

Experts tell us, of course, that much can be done to improve the lot of the miner in respect of his working conditions and methods of production in general. Until something has been accomplished in this direction—anybody who has been down Old Country coal mines knows how much room for improvement there is—there is very little point in wage comparisons as between the safe and the hazardous trades.

NO IT ISN'T

MR. MEIGHEN IS TELLING THE people of Nova Scotia that "the great question before the electors" is: "Is the King Government now to be exonerated?" He is referring to the customs affair.

The Canadian elector has his own ideas as to what is the great question now before him. After what has been exposed he is satisfied in his own mind that customs conditions will be thoroughly overhauled and the abuses which have been going on for many years eliminated. The great question before him is whether he is going to allow himself to be strangled economically by Mr. Meighen's high-binding backers.

The taxpayer knows what the King Government did for him in the budget of 1926. He thoroughly understands that piece of legislation. Is it reasonable to suppose that because Mr. Meighen would have him think of other things as "the great question" he is going to do so, especially when all he has to look forward to from a Conservative Government is an unexplained theory called "stable protection?"

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

THE C.N.R. MAKES GOOD

From The Vancouver Daily Province
In the first half of this year, the Canadian National Railways had an operating profit, in round figures, of $15,000,000, and the gross revenue for that period exceeds that of the same period last year by something over that amount. Last month the system earned $22,000,000 against expenditures of $11,000,000. This is going to be the best year the Canadian National has known for all the weary while since the frenzied financiers dumped it, bankrupt and looted, upon the Canadian people.

This is good news, and it is particularly welcome at this time. It is steady news. It writes an obliterating discount against all the croakings of the croakers who add a gratuitous misery to the inevitable woes of a general election. It is one more proof—the most cogent of all—that things really are looking up in Canada, that we are safely out of the slumps and dumps of the lean years gone by. It is the complete answer to all the Gummidgees among our politicians who are always "thinking about the old 'un'."

There is another suggestion out of this half-yearly statement of our national railways. The C.N.R. is a big concern, but profits of fifteen millions in six months is not a bad showing for any business. And it will occur to a great many Canadians who are justly resentful of the incessant and not very scrupulous propaganda against national ownership that the time is nearly ripe for squeezing from the C.N.R. the water with which the looters burdened it. It is not fair to saddle the railway with the debts left by the old regime, and it is not good business.

Do You Mean What You Say?

"LOG ROLLING"

The expression of "log rolling," originated in the lumber regions, where loggers of different camps took turns in helping each other roll logs down a river. It is now a political term indicating mutual cooperation on the part of individuals for the furthering of their own causes. It means, in other words, "You help me, and I'll help you."

The quantity of freight carried through the Welland canal in 1925 exceeded that carried through in 1924 by 602,886 tons. The quantity moved through the St. Lawrence canals was 670,614 tons greater than in 1924. The freight traffic on the canals last year totaled 14,130,667 tons. Of the total 12,615,049 tons, or eighty-nine per cent, was carried in Canadian vessels and eleven per cent in ships registered in the United States.

VICTORIA SHOWS EFFECT OF DEBT SHRINKAGE NOW

Fine Financial Standing of City Shown in Annual Report Just Issued

Per Capita Tax Drops $7.86 in Last Three Years

The excellent financial standing of the city of Victoria is shown in the 1925 annual reports now off the press. The data contained in the folder was prepared by City Hall officials, and shows a reduction in the tax levy for municipal purposes of $7.86 per capita in the last three years.

The statement follows, in part:

"The per capita levy for all taxes, including general, frontage maintenance, local improvement, road and poll taxes, and trade licenses for each of the last four years, is as follows: 1923, $52.85; 1924, $51.20; 1925, $49.07; 1926, $44.99—a reduction in three years of $7.86 per capita."

TAX COLLECTION BETTER

"Collection of current general taxes in 1925 amounted to $6.25 of the levy, compared with $4.02% the previous year. Collections of arrears in 1925 amounted to $239,538 against $237,602 in 1924. Collections of all taxes (including consolidated arrears, of which only a very small percentage is payable each year) exceeded the total of all current tax levies by $82,765."

ASSESSMENT 1926

"The 1926 assessment on land has been reduced by approximately 11 1/4%. At the same time the general tax rate has been reduced from 25.3 to 23 mills. The reduction in the levy is $147,060, which is equivalent to a reduction of close to 3 1/2 mills on the 1925 assessment."

BUILDING PERMITS UP

"Building permits issued in 1925 to June 15 amount to $59,194, compared with $241,069 for the same period in 1925, an increase of 53% or $128,035.

"Attention is drawn to the statistics prepared according to the standard form of the Bond Dealers' Association of Canada, appearing on pages 145-146 of the 1925 financial report."

TAX SALE LANDS

"The assessment of properties placed back on the tax roll, as a result of sales of tax sale properties in 1925, exceeded the assessment of the properties which reverted to the city during the year by $299,320. Sales from January 1 to June 30, 1926, were $113,677, compared with $33,517 for the same period in 1925."

POINTS TO EXPANSION

In a concise summary of the progress made by the city in the last twelve months, Mayor Carl Penland points to the reduction in taxation, increase in tax collection and expansion along all lines as indicative of the turning of the tide. The preparation of taxes plan is detailed, and shows what a beneficial effect this system has had on ratepayers in the full discharge of their accounts with the municipal treasury. Public works, parks and other civic services have been kept to a high state of efficiency, and at no time in the history of the city since pre-war days has its financial standing been on a par with its present high position, shows the Mayor.

Since the report was prepared the city has wiped out the current loan at the bank, a record that has not been equaled in forty years in the mem-

"MISS AUSTRALIA" CHALLENGES U.S. QUEEN OF BEAUTY

Amazing Gifts Showered on Girl Winner of Beauty Contest

Special to The Times
Sydney, Australia, July 28.—If Miss Beryl Mills, who has been acclaimed the loveliest of the many lovely girls who competed in the "Miss Australia" beauty contest, could have summoned to her side the wonderful working girls of the Arabian Nights, she could not have commanded the hundredth part of the shower of gifts that her simple title has brought her. Money, jewels, splendid clothes and furs, limousines, paid-up shares, furniture, everything that wealth can procure, have been flung at her feet by her enthusiastic countrymen.

Some months ago The Sydney Daily Guardian organized a "Miss Australia" competition on the lines of the "Miss California" contest. Photographs were sent from girls who had found the true beauty treatment on the sunlit surfing beaches of Sydney, Melbourne and Brisbane, from girls whose skin had been tanned by the hot sun of the back country. A committee of artists and doctors, after a long week-end process, reduced the number of "possibles" to eleven, and finally, after exhaustive personal tests, awarded the palm to Beryl Mills, a nineteen-year-old girl from West Australia. Sydney (Gazette) was provoked to learn that the winner came from Geraldton, which happens to be the town most distant from Australia's greatest city—it is 2,200 miles away. In that northwestern territory, which travelers who have never visited it continue to describe as desert, and Sydney's pretty girls strike the foreign visitor quite as much as his harbor!

FORM OF BEAUTY

The judges' decision meant that Beryl Mills became entitled to do luxe staterooms for herself and her mother to San Francisco and back; $10,000 for expenses incident to traveling, and other gifts, including many from business concerns which have united to provide Miss Australia with a traveling equipment such as few women can hope to enjoy. "Miss Australia" will go to Atlantic City, to be matched with American girls who share her endowment of beauty.

In making their decision the judges took into account other factors than merely facial beauty; figure, health, disposition, character, mentality. Beryl Mills, they decided, has a charming face, an admirable figure, splendid health, a winning disposition, sterling character, and the sound mind which should go with the sound body. She is an undergrad of Perth University, where her scholastic and sporting records are satisfactory.

The measurements of the Venus de Milo, Beryl Mills and Fay Lamondier ("Miss America") are as follows:

	Venus de Milo	Beryl Mills	Fay Lamondier
Weight	84	117	128
Height	5' 10"	5' 8"	5' 8"
Chest	34	34	34
Hips	34	34	34
Thighs	24	24	24
Calves	14	14	14
Neck	12	12	12
Arm	25	25	25
Leg	25	25	25

The ancient Greeks liked their beauties thick in the ankle, full in the waist, and well-developed in the chest. If the measurements of famous statues are a criterion, says the medical correspondent of The Daily Guardian, ideals vary with epoch and latitude. That the measurements of the final seven in the "Miss Australia" competition should approach somewhat to classic "Venus" lines is an exception to fashion's rules. Cleopatra would have lost a modern competition on her features, though she might have started as a belle in mid-Victorian "aquiline" days. But in any case her height, a mere four feet, would have disqualified her. But there is an actual physical change in women since ancient days.

In the great apes the arm and leg approach equal length. In this respect the Venus de Milo is under the ape than any modern woman. Women are growing taller, smaller in the feet, shorter in the arm, and slimmer in mid-line development. The change is still progressing. Ten thousand years from now "Miss Australia's" long arms in 1926 may be an archaeological joke.

The runners-up in the contest were Miss Monica Mack and Miss Mascotte Ralston, both beauties of the Australian stage.

The Studebaker corporation placed a splendid limousine, with chauffeur, at "Miss Australia's" disposal, and will do the same at every port of call and every point of call on the voyage to Atlantic City. Among the hundreds of gifts lavished upon her one at least was amusing—an offer of "chewing gum for life."

teeth. I say this often, it should be

Auking root soon. Inorganic lime, that type found in lime water, has no power to furnish lime to the human system. It is just an anti-acid agent, singular in action to bicarbonate of soda.

Organic lime is found in milk, green vegetables, whole grain cereals, foods, etc. The baby must have vegetable and fruits in order to get his supply of lime. The use of cod liver oil is always indicated when babies are slow in physical development and in teeth. In addition to containing valuable minerals and vitamins, cod liver oil seems to have the property of helping the body to use the lime and phosphorus present in the other foods.

No child of ten months should be able to dictate about whether he will or won't eat vegetables. Give the baby a spoonful of mixed vegetables and expect him to eat it. If all ordinary methods fail one has no recourse but to force the food, since it is so essential to the child's welfare.

Insist on the orange juice—he is too young for the pulp.

WOMEN'S AFFAIRS

WOMAN ORDERED TO RETURN PRESENTS

Would-be Bridegroom Wins Action Against His Intended Wife

San Francisco, July 28.—The futile and expensive romance of John R. Cole, formerly of Inchemum, Wash., was revealed here today in a decision of the State Supreme Court affirming Cole's possession of valuable land holdings in Canada, Idaho and California which he had given to the woman whom he had expected to marry.

Court records showed that in 1920, when Cole was living in Inchemum, he saw an advertisement in a matrimonial agency circular published in Los Angeles. As a result Cole entered into extended correspondence with Mrs. Edie T. Manning, a resident in the southern California city. Cole said Mrs. Manning ultimately visited him in Inchemum and that he paid her expenses and that she subsequently accompanied him on a trip to California after promising to become his wife. It was upon this promise, Cole asserted, that he decided to give her the income from some of his property. Cole charged that he repeatedly asked Mrs. Manning to become his wife and that Mrs. Manning as repeatedly postponed the nuptials.

Cole finally appealed to the court, asserting he had given Mrs. Manning the property and money because he thought she would be his wife. The state court upheld the lower court in returning the property to Cole on the ground that "Admittedly any contract which violates morals and public policies is illegal and void."

Famous Romney Portrait Sold to Duveen Brothers

London, July 30.—Heavy taxation is blamed by Sir William Brumfield, Davenport for the sale of the famous Romney portrait of his great-grandmother, Lady Davenport, to Duveen Brothers for £55,000 ($251,000).

"The utterly appalling character of modern taxation," he said today, "makes it quite impossible to live in big houses under the old conditions, and such sales are inevitable. The picture has been a prized family possession since 1752, and modern conditions alone led to its sale."

At the Summer camp of Miss Mae

Murle a very pleasant evening was spent on Wednesday, when a number of her friends paid her a surprise visit. Dancing was enjoyed until midnight, when delicious refreshments were served around a huge bonfire and singing was indulged in to the strains of ukuleles. Those present were Mrs. Murle, Miss Margaret Taylor, Miss Madeline Priestley, Miss Allie Limmer, Miss Dorothy Peden, Miss Renie Pionman, Miss Elsie Elkington, Miss Margaret Stevenson, Miss Wanda Ferguson, Miss Ada Cutler (Vancouver), Miss Irene Harris and Miss Eileen Hind, and Messrs. Arthur Partridge, Roy Darius, Ralph Butler, Claude Connerion, Norman Holland, Bill Murray, Jack McCreadie, Gordon Sore, Herb Sablston, Leslie Todd (Vancouver), Stanley Carver, Penjar and others.

A pretty wedding was solemnized

Wednesday afternoon at Douglas Gossel Hall when Vera Margaret Raven, daughter of the late Percy John Raven and Mrs. Haven, 1157 Bagby Street, became the bride of Frederick Hall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hall, Fifth Street. The bride looked lovely in a gown of white tulle with hat to match and carried a bouquet of Ophelia roses. She was given in marriage by Mr. E. W. Carter, a close friend of her late father, and attended as a maid of honor by Miss Ella Kelsey, who looked charming in a gown of peach silk crepe and white picture hat, carrying a bouquet of gladioli and mauve sweet peas. Miss Ruth Hall, sister of the bridegroom, made a pretty bridesmaid in turquoise blue crepe de Chine and hat to match with bouquet of carnations. Mr. Frank Creed was best man. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Smith-Patterson. A reception was held at the home of the bride, the house being beautifully decorated with a profusion of flowers. Among the many beautiful gifts was a handsome silver tea service given by the office staff of David Spence Limited, where the bride was formerly employed, also an oak dining table, mantel clock and handsome cheque from Lemon, Gonnason's, where the bridegroom is an employee. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hall left later for Skagway where they will spend their honeymoon, and on their return will reside at 1310 Topaz Avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Coulson of Toronto, who have been visiting Mrs.

Coulson's parents, Col. and Mrs. Peters at Esquimaux for the last two months, have left for their home in the East. They were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Peters in Vancouver on Wednesday, resuming their journey yesterday.

To-night the management will entertain the officers and men of both ships at an open-air dance in the tennis court.

WOMAN ORDERED TO RETURN PRESENTS

Would-be Bridegroom Wins Action Against His Intended Wife

San Francisco, July 28.—The futile and expensive romance of John R. Cole, formerly of Inchemum, Wash., was revealed here today in a decision of the State Supreme Court affirming Cole's possession of valuable land holdings in Canada, Idaho and California which he had given to the woman whom he had expected to marry.

Court records showed that in 1920, when Cole was living in Inchemum, he saw an advertisement in a matrimonial agency circular published in Los Angeles. As a result Cole entered into extended correspondence with Mrs. Edie T. Manning, a resident in the southern California city. Cole said Mrs. Manning ultimately visited him in Inchemum and that he paid her expenses and that she subsequently accompanied him on a trip to California after promising to become his wife. It was upon this promise, Cole asserted, that he decided to give her the income from some of his property. Cole charged that he repeatedly asked Mrs. Manning to become his wife and that Mrs. Manning as repeatedly postponed the nuptials.

Cole finally appealed to the court, asserting he had given Mrs. Manning the property and money because he thought she would be his wife. The state court upheld the lower court in returning the property to Cole on the ground that "Admittedly any contract which violates morals and public policies is illegal and void."

At the Summer camp of Miss Mae

Murle a very pleasant evening was spent on Wednesday, when a number of her friends paid her a surprise visit. Those present were Mrs. Murle, Miss Margaret Taylor, Miss Madeline Priestley, Miss Allie Limmer, Miss Dorothy Peden, Miss Renie Pionman, Miss Elsie Elkington, Miss Margaret Stevenson, Miss Wanda Ferguson, Miss Ada Cutler (Vancouver), Miss Irene Harris and Miss Eileen Hind, and Messrs. Arthur Partridge, Roy Darius, Ralph Butler, Claude Connerion, Norman Holland, Bill Murray, Jack McCreadie, Gordon Sore, Herb Sablston, Leslie Todd (Vancouver), Stanley Carver, Penjar and others.

NEWS IN BRIEF

The Rev. Daniel Walker will speak at the Strangers' Rest, Government Street, to-night at 8 o'clock. The public is invited.

A feature of the concert which is to be given by the Boys' Naval Band, at the Crystal Garden this evening will be the cornet solos by Marjorie Hodgkins, aged fourteen years.

This evening at 8 o'clock, in the New Thought Temple, Dr. Arthur F. Barton will conduct the study class. This class is open to all and the lessons are entitled "Practical Self-help" by Christian D. Larson.

Some splendid action is being seen nightly at the Arena where the peasant Ivanhoe is drawing the crowds, and one of the outstanding interpretations is that by Miss Ethel Bale who plays magnificently the role of Dame Elsie, the widow "who lost her son, who had no father."

Lum Tan, youthful Chinese woman, charged in the city police court this morning with driving to the common danger, paid a fine of $10 for her alleged recklessness behind the wheel. C. Nelson, who was almost struck down by her automobile on Douglas Street on July 24, gave evidence against her. Magistrate Jay warned Miss Lum to be more cautious in future.

Mrs. Christina Hunter was arraigned before Magistrate Jay this morning in the city police court on a charge of keeping liquor for sale. Her case was adjourned until August 2, when it will be again remanded to August 9, and August 10 will be set as a day of peremptory hearing. R. C. Lowe appears for the defendant and was agreeable to the remanding of the case to-day.

G. E. Tuttle, charged with driving to the common danger on the Island Highway, down what was known as the Colwood stretch, was arraigned before Magistrate Jay this morning. Sergeant Robert Owen charged and caught the accused he told the court to-day, and marked his speed on the corner, which was excessive, reaching forty-four miles per hour at times. Accused was fined $25.

Thanks are expressed by Joe North, who made the arrangement for the orphans of the Protestant Orphan's Home, inmates of the Old Home to see the pageant, "Ivanhoe," to the Empire Taxi Company who placed cars at their disposal; the Post Shop for bouquets and Wiper's Candy Store for candy for the children. Thanks are also expressed to the Gyo Club for the invitation to attend the performance, which all thoroughly enjoyed.

"Funny thing, a subject that is not discussed on this tour is politics," Dean Laird said at the Empress Hotel, "the party of the party except myself has been West before they were East. I am interested in the wheat fields, the mines, the scenery, the forests, the mountains they experienced one of B.C.'s terrible forest fires. They are surprised at the mildness of the coast climate, are surprised at the small amount of rain here, which they thought was very wet place. They like the Coast cities of Vancouver and Victoria better than any other they have seen on the trip."

PROMINENT PEOPLE IN GROUP

Among those in Dean Laird's party are Mr. and Mrs. Hagerman of Toronto, where Mr. Hagerman is a former manager of the Bank of Montreal, and Mr. Thomas Lucas of Montreal, where Mr. Lucas is head of the Financial News Service. METHODS OF STEVENS DECLARED UNFAIR

 "It is only necessary to read in its entirety the portion of my speech from which Mr. Stevens quoted to show how untrue it is that the remarks referred to are capable of being construed as Mr. Stevens has sought to construe them, or of any inference being drawn from them at the action of the Minister of Customs, which was made after Mr. Stevens, for reasons well known to himself, has sought to draw."

THIRTEEN DEATHS

"Here is in full the portion of my speech at Sarnia, sent out by the Canadian Press:
 "Mr. Stevens, Minister of Customs, said Mr. King had announced that Mounted Policemen had been strung along the border. Yet, we read that thirteen persons have died as the result of drinking poisoned liquor smuggled into this country. I am not going to say Mr. Meighen's administration is responsible, but he says I was responsible for allowing diseased, prison-made clothes to enter Canada from the United States. That only shows how hard it is for any government to solve the smuggling problem."

LIQUOR SMUGGLED

"Mr. Meighen, in the Maritime Provinces, had said Mr. King had permitted germ-infested prison-made garments to enter Canada. I am not going to say Mr. Meighen's administration is responsible, but he says I was responsible for allowing diseased, prison-made clothes to enter Canada from the United States. That only shows how hard it is for any government to solve the smuggling problem."

ST. BONIFACE DEATH

Winnipeg, July 30.—Peter Patterson, the fourth recent victim of alcoholic poisoning, died in St. Boniface yesterday. He was taken to the hospital there a few days ago in a very serious condition.

NEW DRY ERA

Buffalo, N.Y., July 30.—The blows struck by United States federal agents against alleged violators of the Volstead Act in the last twenty-four hours, promise to make the Niagara frontier the driest it has been since the prohibition law became effective.

On top of the indictment of about ninety Buffalo and Niagara Falls men, members of an alleged run-running ring, the government is moving to close a $1,000,000 brewery at Niagara Falls which it is alleged furnished the Falls and Buffalo with "good" beer for many months.

Indictments have been returned against the owners of the Cataract Brewing Company, brew-officers, stockholders and employees. Thirty-one of the men indicted in the alcohol conspiracy were arrested and arraigned before a federal commission, who are being held ranging from $10,000 to $50,000 each.

SHOCKS IN ENGLAND

Westbourne, Eng., July 30.—An earthquake shock which lasted several seconds was felt in this town on the Hampshire and Dorsetshire boundary at 2.25 this afternoon.

Brazilian Earnings Show Good Gain

Toronto, July 29.—E. R. Wood, Toronto, vice-president, who presided at the annual meeting of the Brazilian Traction, Heat, Light and Power Company, held here today, stated that the bus services operated by the company in Rio de Janeiro and Sao Paulo had proved so satisfactory that they would be extended. He also reported the new Serra Power Development, which is to serve Sao Paulo, as going ahead in a most satisfactory manner.

Mr. Wood stated that the current earnings of Brazilian had shown a marked improvement both for the half year and for June.

The general directors' report shows that gross subsidiary earnings were up $4,396,992, or 15.99 per cent.

over the previous year, while net earnings had gained $845,973 or 5.93 per cent. H. H. Cousens, Toronto, vice-president in charge of the subsidiary companies, was elected director to succeed F. A. Huntress.

ALLENE SUBMITS TO BEAUTY PROCESS IN PERFUMED PARIS

Monsieur Coos, Gushes and Curls as She Devotes Herself to Muse

Nosebag, Hot and Cold Air and Rare Scents Used; But Bill Surprises

By ALLENE SUMMER

Paris, July 29.—I have just been put through the Parisian beauty process. I seem to look about the same. But there is every good and fitting reason why I should not.

The beauty process in Paris, la la, is something else again from the home process where one says, "give me a lemon rinse and round curl and please be quick. I am on my lunch hour."

One must dedicate at least half a day to the Muse of Beauty in Paris, and monsieur the beautifier would coo and gush and curl and anoint for a steady eight hours if encouraged.

An appointment is made with all due pomp and ceremony. Madame, the pension keeper, being best with certain powers of speech with which Fanny Jicring, Pretzel, my duenna, and I are not, makes the appointment a full week ahead of the festive occasion.

For an appetizer, madame lists that we will have so hair cut, so shampoo, so ondulation, so perfume, so tonic, so hot air, and so rub.

She explains that once we see the glories of the shop and observe the prowess of the monsieur who makes fair ladies fairer, we will go through the entire bill of fare from soup to nuts.

Comes The Day. No less than six monsieurs, all most chic with varnished mustaches bow us in with a tender chorus of "bon jour, madames."

An aproned monsieur, a bit fairer than the rest, ushers us into his own personal boudoir, a sanctum sanctorum of roses and gold with cherubim and seraphim playing tag around the walls.

Monsieur immerses us in frilly rose colored aproned amoucs, which might have been cleaner days. Dabs of absorbent cotton are wadded around the collar "to keep so leetle hairs from tickling so, yes."

The haircut differs little from our ilk, only interspersed by the coolings of monsieur as he praises the glories of his handiwork and calls upon us, too, to admire.

Shampooing, too, is to these Parisian shops but a cursory thing—a dabbing on of soap and a quick rinsing off. They are impatient for the next step, which is to them the one and only reason for a shampoo—the perfume.

With the pomp of the cellarer proffering his wine hat, monsieur proffers his "lotion car." He breathes out affias to the charms of jasmine, rose de Jacquimot, ambre, emeraude, lilas pourpre, narcisse bleu.

It vain to we try in hybrid French to protest that we have no desire to go about attracting the honey bees. "The perfume on so head, is what no lady escapes without, and I don't mean maybe."

We choose one which sounds least offensive and wait the dab. It comes in the way of a water spout—a cloud, burst, a torrent, an entire quart bottle dumped upon one poor defenceless head. We gasp for gas masks, but none come.

Then once again the scene doth change. Monsieur lovingly pats our tresses into his idea of the choicest, the dernier cri, the last thing than which nothing is later. We are given dips and curlicues and calliflowers and swirls and roller coaster glides. Our temples, ears and even the nape of the neck are garnished as though our faces were a plat du jour, and all the while the trimmings of rosebud radishes, butter snails, and sprigs of parsley were being attached thereto.

Fanny Jicring, for short, opines that I resemble Fatima with snakes crawling over her brow.

Then once again the scene is changed. With our tresses dripping quarts of water down the neck, a Fatima-like veil is drawn over our face and curlicued locks.

And that's but the half of it, dearie. An object somewhat resembling a mule's feed bag is dropped over our heads. The effect is ghastly—only eyes and nose emerge through the proper slits. We resemble the High Kiang on feast day.

The bag has to swell like a blimp preparing for ascent. We clutch the chair arms to escape vaulting heavenward. Blasts of hot and cold air swirl upon our heads.

Monsieur detours for a moment. The blimp gets hotter and hotter. We cannot take it off. We do not know the French word for "too hot." We yell "tree something," and while waiting for the next word, monsieur, assuming that we mean "tree cold," or "very cold," turns on some more hot air.

We yell. A good yell seems to bring the same results in any tongue. We are rescued.

When our heads have been properly heated and chilled and dried in the feed bag the ondulation, Marcel, is given.

The bill. Six francs for shampoo, six francs for cut, eight francs for the perfume waterspout, seven francs for the ondulation. Total, twenty-seven francs or eighty-one cents.

You should see me.

This never happens with Sunlight Soap

THE household linens had been in storage. The pillow slips, newly made of fine materials, had been washed once, then put away in a cedar chest.

About three months later they were hurriedly put into guest service. In the morning the guests were all embarrassed—the pillow slips were full of holes.

One woman guest saved the day by admitting the same thing had happened to her own household linen—it was the fault of harsh impure soap, and hurried rinsing.

This is a true account of a true happening—an extreme case of course, but it shows what can happen—what does happen in a lesser degree every time clothes are washed with soap other than Sunlight—and it's only the truth to say it could never have happened with Sunlight Soap. Your laundress knows Sunlight is all-pure soap, as harmless to fabric as it is ruinous to dirt.

MILLIONS OVERFED LECTURER CLAIMS

Health Expert Tells of Danger of Unbalanced Ration

"Prevention of Disease by Right Living" is the subject of the open lectures by Dr. J. C. Elliott in the Metropolitan Church, Monday, at 7.35, in the series of lectures on "The Relation of Religion and Health and Prevention of Disease by Right Living." The lecturer claims that one of the chief causes of disease and premature death comes from an improper food supply. "Our greatest danger comes from over eating, wrong combinations of food," he says, "and the lack of a balanced ration. Apples and celery at the same meal will often produce fermentation in the stomach, and turn the whole meal into poison, by acidity and gas pressure."

OVERFED He claims that millions are overfed and yet undernourished because of the lack of a balanced ration. This produces inefficiency, weakness, languor, fatigue, disease and often premature death. High blood pressure, hardened arteries, heart disease, paralysis and apoplexy are largely the product of an improper food supply. "Better dine on an onion and a crust of bread and be healthful than feast sumptuously and be sick," says Dr. Elliott. This restricted diet is not necessary if we have proper selection in the food supply. Victoria has many advantages for health, happiness and longevity. Her pure fresh air and ocean breezes, her wealth of water ways, her abundance of fresh wholesome fruits and vegetables, her mild and genial climate, are all large assets in health and long life, if her people will but use them, says the health specialist. His subject Tuesday at 7.45 is "Scientific Breathing and Lung Development." Tuesday, 7.30, "Causes of Disease and Why We Are Sick."

Dr. Elliott has been invited to speak briefly Sunday night on the relation of Religion and Health, preceding Dr. Sipprell's sermon on "The God-planned Life."

The health lectures will be given daily next week in Metropolitan United Church, Pandora and Quadra Streets, at 2.30 and 7.45.

THESE WOMEN

By MALCOLM DUART

(Copyrighted)

The names and situations in this story are fictitious.

In the wings the producer, the director, the stage manager, were exchanging congratulations. Their eyes were heavy with fatigue. The last days of preparation had been long ones, and very hard.

In Nona's dressing-room, Morton stood inside the door, while Nona herself, outstretched on a deep chair, panted wearily.

"Did I do all right, Harry? Was I good?"

There was something childlike in the plea for approval, Morton stepped over and patted her cheek, on which the makeup showed too strongly in the little room.

"You are a success," he said, seriously. "You are a very great dancer—and will be a very famous one."

She took his hand. "Are you glad, daddy?" There was no smile upon her face; only anxiety. "Of course I am glad."

He turned, and seated himself upon a stool. Behind the wall was a head of flowers; roses and carnations and orchids and knots of brilliant yellow and purple blossoms. They were divided into many sprays and close-packed bouquets. On the floor was a great floral horseshoe.

Morton picked up the card that was attached to this emblem.

"A Sunshine Productions—May the Clouds Never Cover Your Face," was the legend that was written on it.

"Good little Abe," said Morton. "He certainly wishes you well."

She was starting to remove the grease-paint from her face, with great dabs of cold cream, and wads of tissue paper.

"I signed my contract with Abe today," she said. "He's to be my personal manager."

Morton nodded approval. "He'll take care of you. He's square."

She started to pull off her sleeveless waist from her shoulders. Morton stepped outside.

Mr. Sunshine himself was waiting at the door, beaming and happy. He thrust his head inside.

"It was great, Nona!" he cried. "Positively wonderful. You're carrying the whole show yourself!"

Withdrawing his head, he shook hands warmly with Morton.

"Let us congratulate ourselves," he proceeded. "I am thinking now, shall I ask them to change her contract right away, and take a big jump in salary for a long term, or shall I plan to take her out of this show and get her starred in the Fall?"

He placed his finger to his forehead and looked at his friend with wrinkled brow.

"Sift yourself," laughed Morton. "I'm sure you won't allow her to lose money in the long run."

"No, indeed," Mr. Sunshine earnestly assured him. "We shall aim to make money. Look!"

He drew a check from a sheet of music, and holding it before him, hummed the air in a voice by no means unmusical.

"We're going to interpolate that," he said. "I had it written for her. She must have more encore numbers. Wasn't she a wow?"

Radiating pleasure, he popped into Nona's dressing room, and shut the door. Morton wandered to the stage, where little knots of performers still were standing, in costume, gleefully reviewing their first night's success.

He shook hands with the producer. "I'll get my money back out of the production, at least," said that worthy, modestly.

Morton prodded him in the ribs. "And about five hundred per cent profit," he supplemented.

"Maybe," said the producer, "but it isn't lucky to brag. We'll pack this place all Summer, and then we'll turn it into a Winter show. I'll get a couple of high-priced comedians, and a better prima donna, and put Nona's name in electric lights outside, right away."

Contentedly he lighted a cigar. The thumping of seats, from the auditorium beyond the curtain, had ceased. The ushers had finished their hasty search for lost purses and gloves and handkerchiefs and hats.

The silence reached to Morton that he had left Audrey and Parrish in their seats, waiting for him.

He turned to the wings, and descending a short flight of steps, pushed at an iron door.

The darkness of the theatre, in contrast to the lighted stage, caused him to blink.

"Audrey!" he called.

"Yes, daddy."

A slim young figure approached him out of the gloom.

"Why, where's Parrish?"

She took his arm. "Mr. Parrish," she said, "got angry and went home."

CHAPTER XLVII

He drew her to the landing, just below the stage.

She glanced into his face. It was frowning, angrily.

"Don't be too cross, daddy," she said. "It was really my fault."

"No matter whose fault it was," he snapped. "He had no right to go away and leave you. What was it you did to him?"

She looked around for a chair. There was one at the head of the flight of steps, on the stage level, and she ascended to it, Morton following.

"I told him he wasn't real," she said, sitting down.

"We were talking, while the ushers threw up the seats, and banged around. I said I thought Nona was a real artist. He gave a little sneer. He said dancers and singers are just butterflies and aren't worth much in the world."

Morton settled on the top step, in order to hear better.

"I suppose he doesn't like flowers, then, either," he commented.

"That's just what I said to him," she replied. "And I told him I thought he wasn't real himself. First he is such a stick-in-the-mud, making up standards of his own for other people to live by, and then all of a sudden he becomes foolish, and ran around after a lot of little chorus girls who don't know anything. Then, because you called him down, he gets to be a stick-in-the-mud again."

She paused.

"What then?" inquired Morton.

"Then he got up and went away," said Audrey. "He wouldn't even say goodnight."

Morton's expression was divided between expression and wrath.

"That fellow is as full of self-claimed Uncle Wiggily. "I guess I didn't know her with her face washed. Are Jillie and Jollie here, too?" he inquired, naming the mouse children, whose last name was Longtail.

"Jollie and Jillie have gone over in the meadow to play with Tinker and Tanker," answered the lady rabbit. "And it is almost time for Squeakie Eekie to go home. I think I'll tell Jumper and Jumper. They are so busy playing they have forgotten how late it is."

But, when Uncle Wiggily hopped out to kindly and gently hint that perhaps Squeakie Eekie had better scamper along home, Jumper said:

"Oh, but the cousin mouse isn't going home. She's going to stay with us all night."

"Oh-er-did you ask your mother?" inquired Mr. Longears, looking at Jumper and Jumper sort of particularly.

"We didn't, but we're going to," answered Jumper.

"And Squeakie Eekie, says it's all right for her to stay. Mrs. Longtail won't care," added Jumper.

"Yes, I'd love to stay all night," whispered Squeakie Eekie. "I'll be very good and not make trouble."

"Oh, my dear child, it isn't that," said Uncle Wiggily with a laugh. "You are welcome to stay as long as your auntie says it's all right."

So that is how the cousin mouse came to stay all night in the hollow stump bungalow with the forty-seven little bunny rabbits. But as for making trouble—well, really it wasn't the fault of the cousin mouse. Any one is likely to get the toothache any time, aren't they?

And that's what Squeakie Eekie got—the toothache in the middle of the night, so that she awakened crying, and Mrs. Longears heard her.

"What's the matter little cousin mouse?" whispered the rabbit lady, creeping into the room where Squeakie Eekie had been sleeping.

"I—now—I got the toothache something terrible!" groaned the cousin mouse. In his room, awakening from a sound sleep, Uncle Wiggily heard what was said.

"Toothache, is it?" cried the bunny. "I'll stop the pain for you, Squeakie Eekie!"

"Not by pulling—oh, not by pulling my tooth!" cried the cousin mouse. "I don't want my tooth pulled, even if it does ache."

"Well, I'll stop the pain now, and later on you may change your mind about having it pulled," said Uncle Wiggily, putting on his bathrobe and slippers, and taking down off the mantel a bottle filled with lightning bugs. This was his flashlight or lantern.

"Where are you going?" asked his wife.

"Out in the meadow, back of the yard, to where the toothache plant grows," answered the bunny gentleman. "There is a plant called yarrow. The roots of it stop the pain of an aching tooth when you chew them and lay them in your mouth near the sore place. Don't cry any more, Squeakie Eekie, you'll soon be better."

In the light from the flashing bugs in the bottle Uncle Wiggily found the yarrow plant. He pulled up some of the roots and washed the dirt off in the spring. Then he gave some of the fine, little roots to the cousin mouse to chew and hold in her mouth near the aching tooth. Pretty soon Squeakie Eekie said:

"Oh, my tongue feels all prickly, like when my paw goes to sleep, after I've been sitting on it."

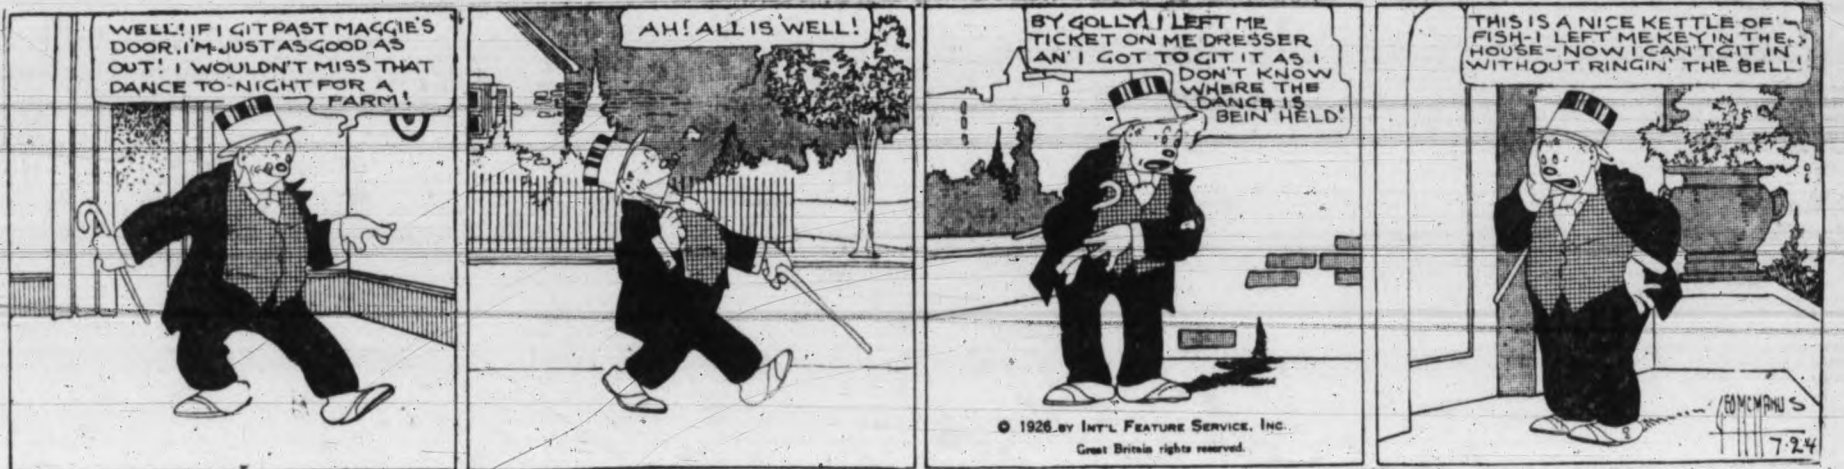

"That numb feeling is the toothache plant stopping the pain," said the bunny uncle. And soon the little mouse child went to sleep, for her tooth no longer ached, and in the morning she went to Dr. Bear, the dentist, who filled her hollow tooth so it would not ache again.

Perhaps there may be some yarrow growing in your back yard, and if there is you can stop a toothache with it. But be sure it is yarrow. And if the gold fish doesn't try to eat a piece of apple pie when standing on its tail, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the July bug.

"Who is that new, strange little animal child playing with Jumper and Jumper?" asked Uncle Wiggily of his wife one afternoon, as he looked from the window of his hollow stump bungalow toward where the bunny children were playing.

"Why, that isn't a new or strange child," said Mrs. Longears. "Don't you know Squeakie Eekie, the cousin mouse?"

"Yes, is that Squeakie Eekie?" ex-

Last Minute News on Stocks and Financial Affairs

New York, July 30 (By R. P. Clark & Co.)—There was sharp advance in many of the industrial leaders in the early trading. General Motors and U.S. Steel common, the two leaders in the recent upswing in the market, soared to new high levels. As the session progressed, it seemed as though quite a little realizing in the industrial quarter of the list was being conducted.

In the afternoon trading the weight of selling of this character promoted a sharp decline, although the market recovered its equilibrium later. The railroad stock at one time were active on the upside, and there is a growing conviction in certain quarters that this class of securities will from now on be expected to approach parity with the general market.

Copper metal sold at 14 1/2 cents, and this represents a fair-sized enhancement in price in the last thirty days. The price of other related metals is also pointing in an upward direction. There is little doubt but that the advance of some of the higher priced industrials has been very rapid, and it may be prudent to exercise caution at this time in following the buying side in such stocks.

We think, however, that other groups are backward and would not be surprised to see sections like the rail and metal assume more prominence on the upside of rising prices.

New York, July 30 (By B.C. Bond Corporation's direct Wall Street wire).—The Wall Street Journal's stock market edition this afternoon says: Stocks received a check in their upward course this afternoon after a further outburst of strength in the morning dealings. The immediate cause of the setback was a stiffening of call money to 5%, after renewing at 4%.

This development received from demand for funds from interior parts in connection with the August 1 settlements. However, it was evident that conditions within the market itself had played an important part in the recovery. A sharp movement was proceeding at such a headlong pace constructive interests after a breathing spell would have been sufficient to permit the technical structure of the general list.

So far as the general credit situation is concerned, there is no significance to the calling of approximately $4,000,000 loan money in view of the fact that the monthly end requirement came with the end of the week when banks have to give up on their reduced reserve balances.

The remarkable stability of the National banking institution was again manifest in the Federal Reserve. There was little change in reserve ratios either at New York or for the combined system. Volume of bills discounted for the system went up $25,000,000 of which New York was responsible for $24,000,000. There were no changes of consequence in other particulars.

Financing of the business turn-over is being well taken care of by the individual banks which, for months past have been fairly in favor of the federal reserve, with this strong situation in mind, bankers were not inclined to attribute the arresting of the sharp rise in stock prices wholly to the higher money charge.

The action of the market itself in the late afternoon suggested that it was simply undergoing a corrective process in the neighborhood of its position after the recent gains.

Nothing beyond a normal technical reaction took place in stock prices. General Motors, U.S. Steel, American Can and other leaders which had established new highs on the first three or four days of the month.

In many departments, bullish operations went ahead with undiminished vigor and the market as a whole acted in a confident fashion. Hudson Motors ran up sensationality at the expense of a large short interest. Texas Gulf, one of the recent leaders, was off the stock on the theory that its immediate objective had been obtained now that the news was out regarding the split up of the stock.

Yonkers Steel was a new favor in the industrial list, advancing to 87, a jump of 2 1/2 points from Thursday's close. This stock has been under accumulation for some time. The company is one of the largest independent steel producers in the country and one of the most conservative earners.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

Winnipeg, July 30.—New crop futures registered new highs on the grain market to-day during early trading and although they reacted several times from the high points, prices were strong during the entire session and ranged from 1 to 3 cents over the previous close. July option, however opened with a gain of about 1 1/2 but lost it during the first half-hour of trading. Wheat prices closed unchanged to 1 1/2 higher. July closed at 150 1/4; October at 148 and December at 145 1/4.

There was no special feature in the coarse grain market. In the cash wheat section, final figures were unchanged.

Winnipeg, July 30 (By R. P. Clark & Co.)—Wheat. Bullish weather map and strong Liverpool cables gave the market an opening bid of 1 1/2 to 2 cents but the July option soon came under selling pressure from a large Canadian interest and the early gains in this month disappeared. The new crop months held steady with good buying coming in from the south for October but about mid-session both Oct. and Dec. eased off a little on some profit-taking losing about 1 1/2 from the high points. On the extreme bid Oct. climbed to 149 1/4 and Dec. 145 1/4, representing an advance of about 3 cents from the previous close, but final figures for the month were only 1 1/2 cents higher while July closed unchanged.

There was a large local spreading business going on buying Dec. wheat and selling Oct. from Canadian sources overnight was the largest for some time. More than 1,000,000 bush. of Manitoba old crop wheat being re-sold. Yields of wheat in Roumania are said to be disappointing. The Canadian crop situation will continue to be watched closely by the trade. Profit short covering in the wheat market tends to keep the technical position of market healthy and believe that purchases are warranted on the recession.

Chicago, July 30 (By R. P. Clark & Co.)—Wheat. Continued stability in Liverpool and dry weather in Canada led to a fresh bid at the outset, which carried the market up 5 cents from the low of yesterday. The rapidity of the rise attracted heavy profit taking sales, and the market reacted sharply as a result. On the break again put in its ap- pearance and the market recovered from bottom were effected. The foreign demand for wheat developed more activity, especially for old crop man- ufacture and some positions were placed at 1,300,000 to 1,400,000 bush.

World's shipments this week will probably total around 10,000,000 bush. and selling Oct. from Canadian sources overnight was the largest for some time. More than 1,000,000 bush. of Manitoba old crop wheat being re-sold. Yields of wheat in Roumania are said to be disappointing. DURANT AGAIN CLEANS UP MILLIONS IN WALL STREET

New York, July 30.—One spectacular Wall Street operator, William C. Durant, has scored his third big financial triumph and made a third fortune out of the same stock.

Mr. Durant is credited with having made a $1,500,000 paper profit yesterday when stock of General Motors Corporation, which he founded, soared to a record of $191. He is also credited with having profited $20,000,000 in this past year, after his undaunted faith in it had twice previously stripped him of his wealth.

Mr. Durant made his first fortune in founding General Motors, but was removed from its presidency in 1910. He made a second fortune in General Motors stock, said to have been $100,000,000, before the 1920 depression, in which he met disaster. Many Wall Street men believe the third Durant fortune is as large as ever before.

London, July 29.—The defeat of Yorkshire by Nottingham at Trent
Bridge was the outstanding feature in county cricket games, which ended yesterday, and was an auspicious benefit for Whysall, the Nottingham professional, in whose honor the encounter was staged. This was the second beat for the White Rose this season.
The victory was a first innings one only, but it was sufficient to give Notts three points and reduce the average of the championship county by just that much. The score was:
Notts 420, Yorkshire 298.

Individual scoring was not heavy,
only four centuries being notched up in 14 matches.

Other results follow:
Gloucestershire won from Somerset;
Lancashire won from Derby; Hampshire won from Gloucester; Essex-Middlesex, drawn; Sussex won from Northants; Surrey won from Kent;
Worcester-Warwick, drawn.
